Report of Superintendent of Schools.

Although the year of superintendency is not yet completed, the district superintendent submits the following report of the Jefferson schools, with suggestions and recommendations pertaining thereto.

The schoolhouses have been inspected and recommendations made regarding repairs, cleaning and sanitary conditions. Considerable has been done toward bettering conditions, especially at the Hill and Starr King, and an effort has been made to arouse the interest of the pupils in caring for the appearance of the schoolhouses and surroundings. There is still need of repairs on several buildings before they are fitted for the ideal school, and I recommend generous appropriation for this work. I also recommend that unnecessary injury to school property should be paid for by the pupils doing the injury.

The work of grading the schools was begun in the fall and still continues. It is impossible to accomplish the same results in the mixed graded schools as in the classified graded schools. Hence the superintendent finds the grade of work low, but improving. The pupils are especially poor in written work. The best opportunity for graded work is at the Meadows, where there are two schools for the elementary classes. The large number of pupils at the Hill makes the work difficult for one teacher. In most of the schools, however, the pupils have been grouped into classes so that the teachers can do fairly good work.

As a whole the teachers have worked faithfully in the schools and have responded well to the suggestions given. Several meetings have been held for illustrative teaching and discussion of work in the different subjects, besides regular teachers' meetings every two weeks for study and discussion. It has been the desire of some of the teachers to prepare to take the state examinations. This desire shows a teacher to be awake and progressive. There is need of more Normal teachers, but it is difficult to secure them for the salaries paid. The superintendent wishes the pay of teachers who prove themselves especially valuable might be increased from time to time.

An effort has been made this winter to start school libraries in all the schools and some good beginnings have been made. Good books would be gladly received to increase the number of volumes and consequently the range of reading.

The superintendent wishes to emphasize the value of the High School to the town of Jefferson. You now have a well-equipped laboratory, an excellent reference library for history, maps, and a general equipment for a good school. Pupils here may get an education which will be of inestimable value. Citizens should plan to send their children to the High School.

Parents are urged to consider the importance of regular and punctual attendance of the pupils at school. A day out is a day lost. It cannot be satisfactorily made up. Each time the child is tardy makes it easier for him to be tardy again. A habit is being formed which will be detrimental to him in all his later life. "It has been estimated that the illiterate man earns $150 more than is necessary to supply his physical needs each year from the ages of 25 to 55; the man with a common school education averages $300 in the same time; the High School graduate $600; and the college trained man $1200. This fact applied to the boy in school means that every day he spends in school is worth $10 to him; every day he is out costs him $10." Each half day's attendance helps to increase the amount of state aid.

The attention of parents is particularly called to the report cards which are sent out by the teachers.

These cards give the pupil's standing in his studies, his deportment, absences, etc. The parent is requested to sign and return them. But they are not simply to be signed and returned, they should be examined carefully and each item noted. They are the school's means of keeping the parent informed of what the child is doing. The successful school must have the sympathetic co-operation of the parents.

The schools are in special need of supplementary reading books, maps, and practical work for the children of the lower grades.

The superintendent with the advice of the School Board recommends the following sums for school purposes during the ensuing year:—

Teachers' salaries,	$3,060
Repairs and cleaning,	300
Books and supplies,	250
Apparatus, maps, etc.,	100
Fuel,	250
Conveyance,	350
Janitor service,	150
Superintendent,	318

In conclusion, I wish to express my appreciation of the cordial support I have received from School Board, teachers and pupils.

Respectfully submitted,

F. W. JACKSON.
